Description

bioethanol fireplace ONDA RED artistic product completely handmade with high quality materials.

The fireplace have been made in majolica with 2 consecutive cooking completely handmade, it doesn't need a chimney and consequently any brickwork.

Thanks to the characteristics of the ceramics and its form, it uniformly radiates the heat with only 250 cl (cost around € 0,50) of bioethanol, a room of 30 square mts. can be heated.

Every article won't be never equal to the following one; this guarantees the oneness and originality of it.

The two different cookings are effected to 1000° (named "biscottatura") and 900° (named enamel vitrification) they qualify our articles as luxury products in the field of the artistic ceramics.
